

BLOOMING Marvelous

This Valentine's Day express your romantic side. Visit your local Florist where fully trained professional Florists will make up bespoke designs exactly to your requirements, should you have something special in mind.

Traditional timeless classics such as a dozen red Roses or a single red Rose in a beautiful presentation box remain ever popular. However, pink is slowly emerging as the new red for Valentine's Day and we at Blush Temples are definitely seeing a turn in trend towards bouquets of pink Roses, or pink Roses with a mixture of other flowers.

Including a selection of the flowers from your Valentine's bridal bouquet, or wedding flowers is always a thoughtful and romantic touch.

If it's young love on a challenging budget with limited resources, how about a gorgeous contemporary bouquet of fresh Spring flowers such as Hyacinths, Tulips, Annulus and Anemone. Or, perhaps a funky, fun, bouquet of red or pink Gerberas (or just Gerberas in your Valentine's favourite colour).

When selecting flowers for a male recipient, a sizzling hot, exotic, bouquet of lush tropical foliage, red Ginger, red Anthurium, Heliconia, Strelitzia and Protea with some red Roses thrown in, is just fabulous.

As Valentine's Day falls on a week day this year, have your flowers delivered to your Valentine's place of work. Everyone loves to receive a beautiful bouquet at work. And nothing beats feeling like a Princess, or a Prince, for a day and making your work mates green with envy.

Order your flowers hand tied and delivered in a vase, or ask for your bouquet to be aqua packed. An arrangement in a vase is obviously convenient, as it can be unwrapped and displayed immediately. A hand tied bouquet delivered in an aqua pack allows the recipient to display the flowers temporarily and maintain their freshness until they can be arranged in a vase. Alternatively, an arrangement in a container such as a tall martini glass vase is just perfect for the occasion. Have your Florist fill the martini glass vase with a scrumptious display of antique roses and cymbidium orchid heads - divinely romantic -

Plants should not be forgotten. Your local Florist will have a large selection of romantic offerings, all beautifully gift wrapped and ready to go. Don't forget to add a cuddly toy, chocolates, balloons or champagne.

Finally, show a little of that Valentine love to your Florist and place your order well in advance. With the high volume of orders during this busy period this is advisable to avoid disappointment, especially if you will be apart from your loved one and require a national or international delivery. All relay services will have a cut off period for guaranteed delivery.

Whether you are being wooed or you are doing the wooing, I wish you a very romantic and beautiful Valentine's Day.

Do visit the website www.blushtemples.co.uk for flowers and more.